Laura was a girl who liked going to school. She enjoyed learning about life and playing with her friends. They would climb trees, steal apples, run in the valley and watch the beautiful animals. They felt really happy until the bell rang. The sound of the bell meant they had to go back inside and sit at their tables looking at the board. It was much colder in the classroom than it was in the valley. Still, this time was different because this was their last day of school! Summer break was starting, and they will have many wonderful days to spend playing in all of their favorite places!
