Exercise 2 | Dialogue (Diálogo)

---

Directions: Read the dialogue aloud with your teacher.

Orientação: Leia o diálogo em voz alta com seu professor.

Raul went to Prague to visit his friend Tereza, who is studying acting there.

The two of them are walking down the streets of The Old Town.

Raul : These buildings are so beautiful, it feels like they all came out of a fairy tale. And the cathedrals with their tall spires are just mesmerizing. Hey, I saw some pictures of Prague Castle's gargoyles. Can you take me there?

Tereza : Tone down the enthusiasm, Raul. (chuckle) You've just come here; we have plenty of time to visit everything. First, I want to show you something amazing. (dramatic voice) Behold, the most beautiful clock in the world, the Prague Astronomical Clock, my town's pride!

Raul : Oh, wow! It looks amazing. But it seems complicated. How do you tell time?

Tereza : You tell time by looking at the Roman numerals. The other pointers are connected to the ancient times, astronomy and astrology.

Raul : Right, right. I can see the positions of the Sun and the Moon, there are Zodiac signs... and I would need to analyze the rest in more detail. But the figures are interesting. What do they stand for?

Tereza : Well, these represent common prejudices during the period the clock was built. There are Vanity, Greed, Death, and Infidel, and these figures move at the strike of every hour. Bellow, we have The Astronomer, Chronicler, Philosopher, and an Angel.

Raul : It must be very interesting to see them move. Can we stick here for a few more minutes and check it out? And while we wait, can you share some legends about it? There must be some.

Tereza : Of course there are. It was believed that the maker of the clock was blinded by the Czech Council so that he could never make anything more beautiful. As a retaliation, he threw himself in the clock's mechanism, committing suicide and stopping the clock for a whole year.

Raul : Wow! That's grim. I'm glad that it's just a legend... Oh, oh, it's noon, the show's starting.
